GREEN EQUITABLE SOLUTIONS, et

Defendants.

Case No. 2:22-cv-06499-FLA (MARx)

ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFFS’
APPLICATION FOR DEFAULT
JUDGMENT [DKT. 250]

RULING

2 Before the court is Plaintiffs the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) and 3 California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation’s (“DFPI” 4 (collectively, “Plaintiffs”) Application for Default Judgment (“Application”) against 5 Defendants Green Equitable Solutions, South West Consulting Enterprising, Inc., 6 Apex Consulting & Associates, Infocom Entertainment Ltd., Inc., Equity Relief 7 Funding, Inc., Advent Consulting, Inc. (collectively, “Corporate Defendants”) and 8 Relief Defendant MostCap Enterprises (“Relief Defendant”).¹ Dkt 250. (“Appl.”).
9 On September 20, 2023, the court found this matter appropriate for resolution without 10 oral argument and vacated the hearing set for September 22, 2023. Dkt. 261; see Fed.
11 R. Civ. P. 78(b); Local Rule 7-15.

12 For the reasons stated below, the court GRANTS Plaintiffs’ Application and 13 ENTERS default judgment in Plaintiffs’ favor.

BACKGROUND

15 “The general rule of law is that upon default the factual allegations of the 16 complaint, except those relating to the amount of damages, will be taken as true.” 17 TeleVideo Sys., Inc. v. Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915, 917-18 (9th Cir. 1987) (citation and 18 quotation marks omitted). Thus, for purposes of the subject Application, the court 19 takes as true the following facts pleaded in the Complaint:

20 The Corporate and Individual Defendants operated a fraudulent mortgage 21 assistance relief services scam through a web of fictitious entities, despite having been 22 the subject of prior law enforcement actions. Dkt. 43 (“FAC”) ¶¶ 8-13, 19-26. The 23 Corporate Defendants used the same office spaces, shared employees and nearly

26 ¹ Plaintiffs also sued individual Defendants Michael Nabati, Armando Solis Barron, 27 Dominic Ahiga, and Roger Scott Dyer (“Individual Defendants”). The court refers to 28 the Corporate Defendants, the Individual Defendants, and Relief Defendant collectively as “Defendants.” The court granted summary judgment in Plaintiffs’ favor against the Individual Defendants on February 2, 2024. Dkt. 323.

1 identical advertising materials, and commingled funds. Id. ¶¶ 14-17, 27-29, 54. The 2 Corporate and Individual Defendants marketed their services by calling homeowners, 3 including those registered on the National Do Not Call Registry, and representing that, 4 in exchange for large sums of upfront payments, the homeowner’s mortgage interest 5 rates and/or principal balances would be reduced. Id. ¶¶ 3, 31-36, 38-42, 44. The 6 Corporate and Individual Defendants also represented that the consumer’s homes 7 could not foreclosed on while payments were being made, that the consumer need not 8 continue making his or her regular mortgage payments and should not contact their 9 mortgage provider, and that the “services” were associated with government-backed 10 Covid-19 relief assistance programs. Id. ¶¶ 31-49, 66, 81, 83, 107. Thousands of 11 homeowners enrolled in the scheme and made payments via personal check, cashier’s 12 checks, money orders, wire transfers, Zelle, Stripe, and other methods. Id. ¶¶ 50-51.
13 The homeowners rarely, if ever, received the agreed-upon services in return. Id. ¶¶ 14 52-53.

15 Plaintiffs initiated this action on September 12, 2022, and filed the operative 16 First Amended Complaint on October 28, 2022, alleging causes of action for 17 violations of the: (1) Federal Trade Commission Act (“FTC Act”); (2) Mortgage 18 Assistance Relief Services (“MARS”) Act; (3) Telemarketing Sales Rule (“TSR”); (4) 19 Covid-19 Consumer Protection Act (“CCPA”); and (5) California Consumer Financial 20 Protection Law (“CCFPL”). See generally FAC. The Corporate Defendants have not 21 answered or responded to Plaintiffs’ FAC, or otherwise appeared in the action. The 22 court clerk entered default against the Corporate Defendants on January 4, 2023, and 23 against Relief Defendant on July 17, 2023.² Dkts. 104, 220.

25 ² Relief Defendant filed its answer to the FAC on January 5, 2023. Dkt. 107. Counsel
26 for Relief Defendant later sought and obtained permission to withdraw, and the court 27 subsequently ordered Relief Defendant to file a notice appearance of new counsel 28 within 30 days. Dkt. 183. On July 17, 2023, after Relief Defendant failed to retain counsel or respond to the court’s order to show cause why it should not enter default

DISCUSSION

I. Procedural Requirements

In this district, an application for a default judgment must be accompanied by a declaration in compliance with Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b)(1) and (2), and include the following:

- (a) When and against what party the default was entered;
- (b) The identification of the pleading to which default was entered;
- (c) Whether the defaulting party is an infant or incompetent person, and if so, whether that person is represented by a general guardian, committee, conservator or other representative;
- (d) That the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (50 U.S.C. App. § 521) does not apply; and
- (e) That notice has been served on the defaulting party, if required by [Fed. R. Civ. P.] 55(b)(2).

Local Rule 55-1.

The Application and supporting materials state: (a) default was entered against the Corporate Defendants on January 4, 2023, and against Relief Defendant on July 17, 2023; (b) default was entered by a clerk of the court on the operative First Amended Complaint; (c) the Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendant are corporate entities, and thus, are believed not to be minors or incompetent persons; (d) the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act does not apply to this action; and (e) Plaintiffs timely served notice of this motion on Relief Defendant, as it previously appeared in this action. See Dkt. 250-3 (“Layugan Decl.”) ¶¶ 7, 17, 20-23. As the Corporate Defendants have not appeared in this action, Plaintiffs were excused from serving them with written notice of the Application for Default Judgment. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b)(2) (“If the party against whom a default judgment is sought has appeared personally or by a representative, that party or its representative must be served with against Relief Defendant, the court determined Relief Defendant was no longer defending this action and directed the court clerk to enter default against Relief Defendant. Dkts. 219, 220.

1 written notice of the application at least 7 days before the hearing.”).

2 Accordingly, the court finds Plaintiffs have met the procedural requirements of 3 Local Rule 55-1.

4 II. Default Judgment Legal Standard

5 The court clerk is generally authorized to enter a default judgment at a 6 plaintiff’s request against a defendant without a court hearing or judicial action if the 7 claim is for “a sum certain or a sum that can be made certain by computation.” Fed.
8 R. Civ. P. 55(b)(1) (“Rule 55”). In all other cases, the plaintiff must apply to the court 9 for a default judgment. Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b)(2).

10 Rule 55 gives the court considerable discretion as to what it may require as a 11 prerequisite to the entry of a default judgment. TeleVideo, 826 F.2d at 917. “The 12 court may conduct hearings or make referrals—preserving any federal statutory right 13 to a jury trial—when, to enter or effectuate judgment, it needs to: (A) conduct an 14 accounting; (B) determine the amount of damages; (C) establish the truth of any 15 allegation by evidence; or (D) investigate any other matter.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b)(2) 16 (paragraph breaks omitted). “The general rule of law is that upon default the factual 17 allegations of the complaint, except those relating to the amount of damages, will be 18 taken as true.” TeleVideo, 826 F.2d at 917-18 (citation and quotation marks omitted).
19 However, facts which are not established by the pleadings or claims which are not 20 well-pleaded cannot support a default judgment. Alan Neuman Prods., Inc. v.
21 Albright, 862 F.2d 1388, 1393 (9th Cir. 1988).

22 “Factors which may be considered by courts in exercising discretion as to the 23 entry of a default judgment include: (1) the possibility of prejudice to the plaintiff, 24 (2) the merits of plaintiff’s substantive claim, (3) the sufficiency of the complaint, 25 (4) the sum of money at stake in the action[,] (5) the possibility of a dispute 26 concerning material facts[,] (6) whether the default was due to excusable neglect, and 27 (7) the strong policy underlying the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure favoring 28 decisions on the merits.” Eitel v. McCool, 782 F.2d 1470, 1471-72 (9th Cir. 1986).

1 III. Analysis of Eitel Factors

2 A. Possibility of Prejudice to Plaintiff

3 First, Plaintiffs contend they will be prejudiced if their Application for Default 4 Judgment is not granted. Appl. at 3. The court agrees. Taking the factual allegations
5 of the FAC as true, the Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendant unlawfully 6 obtained large sums of money and assets from consumers as a result of a fraudulent 7 mortgage assistance relief scheme. Without entry of default judgment, Plaintiffs will 8 be without legal recourse to recover these assets or to prevent these entities from 9 reengaging in violative behavior. See PepsiCo, Inc. v. Cal. Sec. Cans, 238 F. Supp.
10 2d 1172, 1177 (C.D. Cal. 2002) (“If Plaintiffs’ motion for default judgment is not 11 granted, Plaintiffs will likely be without other recourse for recovery.”). Further, 12 Plaintiffs will be prejudiced by their inability to enforce the consumer protection laws 13 they are legislatively mandated to impose. See 15 U.S.C. §§ 41 et seq.; 16 C.F.R. Part 14 310; 12 C.F.R. Part 1015; Public Law 116260, 134 Stat 1182, Title XIV, Section 15 1401; Cal. Bus. Prof. Code §§ 90000 et seq. Thus, the first Eitel factor favors entry of 16 default judgment.

17 B. Merits of Plaintiffs’ Claims and Sufficiency of the Complaint

18 The second and third Eitel factors are: (2) the merits of Plaintiffs’ substantive 19 claim; and (3) the sufficiency of the complaint. Eitel, 782 F.2d at 1471-72. The Ninth 20 Circuit has suggested that these two factors require a plaintiff to “state a claim on 21 which the [plaintiff] may recover.” Danning v. Lavine, 572 F.2d 1386, 1388 (9th Cir.
22 1978). As stated, on an application for default judgment, the factual allegations of the 23 complaint are taken generally as true, except those relating to the amount of damages.
24 TeleVideo, 826 F.2d at 917-18. However, facts not established by the pleadings or 25 claims which are not well-pleaded cannot support a default judgment. Alan Neuman, 26 862 F.2d at 1393. Therefore, before granting judgment for Plaintiff, the court must 27 evaluate whether the allegations in the Complaint sufficiently establish the merits of 28 Plaintiffs’ claims. See Danning, 572 F.2d at 1388.

1 Taking the facts alleged as true, the Corporate Defendants marketed what 2 appeared to be a legitimate mortgage assistance relief services scheme, and knowingly 3 induced thousands of consumers to wire money to obtain lowered interest rates and 4 principal balances on their home mortgages. In contrast to what was advertised, 5 however, these consumers received nothing in return.

6 First, the Corporate Defendants acted as a common enterprise. “Where one or 7 more corporate entities operate in common enterprise, each may be held liable for the 8 deceptive acts and practices of the others.” FTC v. John Beck Amazing Profits, LLC, 9 865 F. Supp. 2d 1052, 1082 (C.D. Cal. 2012). In making this determination, the court 10 looks to four factors: “(1) common control; (2) sharing office space and offices; (3) 11 whether business is transacted through a ‘maze of interrelated companies’; and (4) 12 commingling of funds.” Id. Here, Plaintiffs have demonstrated the Corporate 13 Defendants were under the common control of the Individual Defendants; comingled 14 funds; shared office space; and transacted business through a maze of interrelated 15 companies which carried out the same business functions, used the same employees, 16 and relied upon almost identical advertising and marketing materials. FAC ¶¶ 14-17, 17 27-29, 54.

18 Next, Plaintiffs have properly alleged the Corporate Defendants, acting as a 19 common enterprise, and Relief Defendant violated various federal and state laws.

20 1. FTC Act

21 The FTC Act prohibits “unfair or deceptive acts of practices in or affecting 22 commerce.” FTC v. Pantron I Corp., 33 F.3d 1088, 1095 (9th Cir. 1994). An act is 23 deceptive if “first, there is a representation, omission, or practice that, second, is likely 24 to mislead consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances, and third, the 25 representation, omission, or practice is material.” FTC v. Gill, 265 F.3d 944, 950 (9th 26 Cir. 2001). Plaintiffs allege the Corporate Defendants made several material false 27 representations that were likely to mislead reasonable consumers, and in fact, did 28 mislead such consumers, including that: the Corporate Defendants would obtain

1 mortgage loan modifications for consumers to make payments more affordable; lower 2 their interest rates or principal amounts due; the Corporate Defendants were 3 associated with a government relief assistance plan; consumers who purchased these 4 services were not obligated to or should not continue to make mortgage payments to 5 their lenders; consumers who purchased the Corporate Defendants' services were 6 protected from foreclosure; and consumers were entitled to a money-back guarantee.
7 FAC ¶¶ 31-48, 51-53, 66-69. Accordingly, the court finds Plaintiffs have 8 demonstrated sufficiently that the Corporate Defendants violated the FTC Act.

9 2. MARS Rule

10 The MARS Rule prohibits mortgage assistance relief providers, seeking to 11 obtain relief on a consumer's behalf, from making false or misleading claims about 12 their services. 12 C.F.R. § 1015.5. The MARS Rule also requires providers to make 13 certain disclosures to clients prior to providing relief services. 12 C.F.R. §§ 14 1015.4(b)(1)-(3), (c). For the same reasons articulated above, and additionally 15 because Plaintiffs have established the Corporate Defendants illegally instructed 16 clients not to contact their lenders, misrepresented various aspects of their services, and 17 failed to make any requisite disclosures, the court finds Plaintiffs have demonstrated 18 sufficiently that the Corporate Defendants violated the MARS Rule.

19 3. TSR

20 The TSR requires telemarketers to pay a fee to access the National Do Not Call 21 Registry and prohibits telemarketers from contacting consumers registered on the list.
22 16 C.F.R. §§ 310.8, 310.4(b)(1)(iii)(B). Here, Plaintiffs allege the Corporate 23 Defendants marketed their services by making unsolicited telemarketing calls to 24 consumers, include those on the National Do Not Call Registry. FAC ¶¶ 32, 38, 101, 25 103. Thus, Plaintiffs have sufficiently shown the Corporate Defendants violated the 26 TSR.

27 ///

28 ///

1 4. CCPA

2 The CCPA prohibits any “deceptive act or practice . . . that is associated 3 with . . . a government benefit related to COVID-19.” Pub. L. No. 116-260, 134 Stat.
4 1182, Title XIV, Section 1401(b)(2). Plaintiffs claim the Corporate Defendants 5 regularly told consumers they were able to provide these fraudulent services as part of 6 a government-backed program related to COVID-19 relief. FAC ¶¶ 33, 37, 41-42, 52-7 53, 107-09. Thus, the court finds the Corporate Defendants violated the CCPA.

8 5. CCFPL

9 Finally, the CCFPL prohibits certain “covered persons” from engaging “in any 10 unlawful, unfair, deceptive, or abusive act or practice with respect to consumer 11 financial products or services.” Cal. Fin. Code § 90003(a)(1). “Services to assist a 12 consumer with . . . modifying the terms of any extension of credit[] or avoiding 13 foreclosure,” qualifies as a “financial product or service.” Cal. Fin. Code § 14 90005(k)(8)(B). For the same reasons as above, Plaintiffs have alleged and shown 15 that the Corporate Defendants engaged in unlawful, unfair, and deceptive practices 16 with respect to financial services in violation of the CCFPL.

17 6. Relief Defendant

18 Plaintiffs also state sufficiently a claim for disgorgement, as they have alleged 19 Relief Defendant received assets from the common enterprise to which it was not 20 legitimately entitled. See SEC v. World Capital Markets, Inc., 864 F.3d 996, 1004 21 (9th Cir. 2017) (To obtain disgorgement against a relief defendant, a plaintiff must 22 show that the relief defendant “(1) received ill-gotten funds and (2) do[es] not have a 23 legitimate claim to those funds.”). Additionally, prior to its answer being stricken, 24 Relief Defendant served discovery responses admitting it received funds from the 25 Corporate Defendants and failing to proffer any legitimate claim to the funds it 26 received. See Layugan Decl., ¶¶ 9, 12-13, Ex. 6.

27 Having found Plaintiffs adequately state a claim for relief, the second and third 28 Eitel factors favor entry of default judgment.

1 C. Sum of Money at Stake

2 Fourth, the court considers “the amount of money at stake in relation to the 3 seriousness of the [d]efendant’s conduct.” PepsiCo, 238 F. Supp. 2d at 1176; see also 4 Eitel, 782 F.2d at 1471-72. This requires the court to assess whether the recovery 5 sought is proportional to the harm caused by the defendant’s conduct. See Walters v.
6 Statewide Concrete Barrier, Inc., No. 3:04-cv-02559-JSW, 2006 WL 2527776, *4 7 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 30, 2006) (“If the sum of money at issue is reasonably proportionate 8 to the harm caused by the defendant’s actions, then default judgment is warranted.”).

9 1. Restitution and Disgorgement

10 Plaintiffs argue the Corporate Defendants should be jointly and severally liable 11 for $15,891,536.97 in restitution and disgorgement, amounting to the total loss 12 suffered by all customers of the fraudulent scheme, and $50,900 in disgorgement from 13 Relief Defendant, totaling the ill-gotten funds received from the Corporate 14 Defendants. App. at 23. Taking their allegations as true, Plaintiffs establish the 15 Corporate Defendants engaged in a fraudulent scheme, which caused customers to 16 lose approximately $15 million due to the Corporate Defendants’ misrepresentations, 17 and that Relief Defendant had no legitimate right to these funds. Accordingly, 18 Plaintiffs’ recoverable damages of $15,891,536.97 against the Corporate Defendants³
19 and $50,900 against Relief Defendant are reasonably proportionate to the harm 20 caused.

21 2. Civil Penalties

22 The DFPI is authorized to seek civil penalties under the CCFPL. Cal. Fin. Code 23 §§ 90012(b)(8); 90012(c). The CCFPL provides for three tiers of penalties depending 24 on the defendant’s level of culpability. A first-tier penalty requires no showing of 25 scienter, while second and third-tier penalties require a showing of recklessness or a 26

27 ³ Pursuant to the court’s Order Granting Summary Judgment against Individual 28 Defendants (Dkt. 323), the Individual Defendants and Corporate Defendants are jointly and severally liable for this restitution amount.

1 knowing violation of the CCFPL. Cal. Fin. Code § 90012(c)(1)(A)(i)-(iii).

2 Here, DFPI seeks a civil penalty in the amount of $3,095,000, representing a 3 tier one, per diem penalty of $5,000 from the date DFPI acquired civil penalty
4 authority (January 1, 2021) to the filing of Plaintiffs' Complaint (September 12, 5 2022). Id. (stating first-tier penalties under the CCFPL may be awarded up to $5,000 6 for each day the violation continues); App. at 24. As detailed above, Plaintiffs have 7 demonstrated the Corporate Defendants repeatedly engaged in unlawful conduct, 8 despite being put on notice by state regulators (see FAC ¶¶ 19-26), and nonetheless 9 only seek imposition of a civil penalty under the least punitive tier-one standard.
10 Indeed, a maximum per diem penalty under the tier-three standard could potentially 11 result in a penalty of hundreds of millions of dollars.

12 Nor do Plaintiffs seek to impose a per diem penalty for every day the Corporate 13 Defendants engaged in deceitful conduct. The FAC alleges the unlawful scheme 14 operated from at least June 2018 through the filing of the Complaint in September 15 2022. FAC ¶ 31. Thus, the period in which Plaintiffs seek to impose monetary 16 penalties is only for a portion of the period in which the Corporate Defendants 17 operated the scheme. Accordingly, the court finds the monetary judgment sought is 18 reasonable and proportional to the harm caused. This factor favors entry of default 19 judgment.

20 D. Possibility of a Dispute Concerning Material Facts

21 “[This] Eitel factor examines the likelihood of dispute between the parties 22 regarding the material facts surrounding the case.” Wecosign, Inc. v. IFG Holdings, 23 Inc., 845 F. Supp. 2d 1072, 1082 (C.D. Cal. 2012) (quotation marks omitted). “Where 24 a plaintiff has filed a well-pleaded complaint, the possibility of dispute concerning 25 material facts is remote.” Id. Plaintiffs have provided ample evidence in support of 26 their claims. See Dkts. 9 (Application for Temporary Restraining Order), 184-87 27 (Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment and supporting evidence). Moreover, the 28 court previously determined, in granting a preliminary injunction, that Plaintiffs were

1 likely to prevail on the merits of their claim. Dkt. 40. Because the Corporate 2 Defendants did not respond to the Complaint, the court concludes that, while not 3 entirely remote, the possibility of a dispute concerning a material fact is low.

4 Though Relief Defendant filed an answer to the FAC, its answer was stricken 5 for failure to comply with the court's order to obtain new counsel and for failure to 6 respond to the court's order to show cause why default should not be entered, which 7 ultimately led the court to determine Relief Defendant was no longer defending this 8 action. Dkts. 219-20. Moreover, prior to its Answer being stricken, Relief Defendant 9 served discovery responses admitting it received funds from the Corporate Defendants 10 and failing to proffer any legitimate claim to the funds it received. See Layugan Decl., 11 ¶¶ 9, 11-13, Ex. 6. Thus, this factor also favors granting Plaintiffs' Application.

12 E. Whether Default Was Due to Excusable Neglect

13 The excusable neglect factor "favors default judgment when the defendant has 14 been properly served or the plaintiff demonstrates that the defendant is aware of the 15 lawsuit." Wecosign, 845 F. Supp. 2d at 1082. Plaintiffs filed proofs of service of the 16 Summons and Complaint on the Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendant. Dkts.
17 52-54, 72-73, 82-83. Because the Corporate Defendants were properly served and 18 aware of the action, the court finds their default did not occur because of excusable 19 neglect. Wecosign, 845 F. Supp. 2d at 1082. Similarly, though Relief Defendant filed 20 an answer, its answer was subsequently stricken for failure to obtain new counsel or 21 respond to the court's orders. See United States v. High Country Broad Co., Inc., 3 22 F.3d 1244, 1245 (9th Cir. 1993) (entry of default judgment is appropriate when a 23 corporation fails to retain counsel). This Eitel factor favors entering default judgment.

24 F. Policy Favoring Decisions on the Merits

25 "Cases should be decided upon their merits whenever reasonably possible." 26 Eitel, 782 F.2d at 1472. But "[t]he very fact that [Rule] 55(b) exists shows that this 27 preference, standing alone, is not dispositive." Klopping v. Fireman's Fund, No.
28 3:94-cv-02684-TEH, 1996 WL 75314, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 13, 1996). Here, the

1 Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendant’s failure to defend this action makes it 2 impractical, if not impossible, for the court to render a decision on the merits after 3 considering Defendants’ potential arguments and defenses. Accordingly, while the 4 final Eitel factor generally weighs against granting default judgment, the court finds 5 this factor to be neutral here.

6 G. Conclusion on Eitel Factors

7 In sum, the foregoing analysis of the Eitel factors weighs in favor of entering 8 default judgment against the Corporate Defendants and Relief Defendant. See Eitel, 9 782 F.2d at 1471-72. The court, therefore, finds it appropriate to enter default 10 judgment in Plaintiffs’ favor, and now turns to the relief Plaintiffs seek.

11 IV. Award

12 Under Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(c), only the amount prayed for in the complaint may 13 be awarded to a plaintiff in default judgment proceedings. Here, Plaintiffs seek 14 monetary relief and a permanent injunction to prevent future violations of law. FAC, 15 Prayer for Relief.

16 A. Restitution, Disgorgement, and Civil Penalties

17 Plaintiffs are entitled to seek restitution under the MARS Rule, TSR, CCPA, 18 and CCFPL. See 15 U.S.C. § 57b(b); Cal. Fin. Code § 90012(b). “[B]ecause the FTC 19 Act is designed to protect consumers from economic injuries, courts have often 20 awarded the full amount lost by consumers rather than limiting damages to a 21 defendant’s profits.” FTC v. Stefanichik, 559 F.3d 924, 931 (9th Cir. 2009); see also 22 FTC v. Munoz, 17 F. App’x 624, 627 (9th Cir. 2001) (citing FTC v. Figgie Intern, 994
23 F.2d 595, 606-07 (9th Cir. 1993)) (“The district court had the authority to order 24 restitution of the amount lost, not just disgorgement of what was received.”).

25 Here, the total amount sought in restitution—$15,891,536.97—represents the 26 full amount lost by customers, determined after a review of financial records, bank 27 statements payment processor data, and records received from check cashing 28 companies, to calculate consumer loss. App. at 29. Plaintiffs also seek disgorgement

1 against Relief Defendant of $50,900, and DFPI seeks civil penalties of $3,095,000.
2 Id. at 30. For the reasons stated above, the court finds these amounts to be 3 appropriate, and awards the requested amounts in restitution and civil penalties.

4 B. Injunctive Relief

5 The FTC Act states that “the Commission may seek, and after proper proof, the 6 court may issue, a permanent injunction.” 15 U.S.C. § 53(b)(2); see also Cal. Fin.
7 Code § 90012(b) (permitting relief under the CCFPL to include, but not be limited to, 8 “limits on the activities or functions of the person.”). To issue a permanent injunction, 9 a court must determine if there is “some cognizable danger of a recurring violation.” 10 Gill, 71 F. Supp. 2d at 1047. The court finds a permanent injunction is necessary to 11 prevent future harm and consumer injury. See App. at 30. The unlawful conduct at 12 issue was not isolated, but rather part of a broad and far-reaching attempt to defraud 13 vulnerable consumers in violation of federal and state laws. Without injunctive relief, 14 there remains a cognizable danger of recurring violations.

15 To determine the appropriate scope of an injunction, courts analyze: “(1) the 16 seriousness and deliberateness of the violation; (2) the ease with which the violative 17 claims may be transferred to other products [or services]; and (3) whether the 18 [defendant] has a history of prior violations.” FTC v. Grant Connect, LLC, 763 F.3d 19 1094, 1105 (9th Cir. 2014). Plaintiffs’ proposed judgement as it pertains to injunctive 20 relief seeks to enjoin the Corporate Defendants from providing debt relief products 21 and services, telemarketing, making the same misrepresentations they made to 22 consumers during their mortgage assistance relief services scheme, and making any 23 other unsubstantiated claims. App. at 31-32. The court finds this relief to be 24 appropriate to prevent future violative conduct. The Ninth Circuit too has previously 25 approval similar bans as proper injunctive relief. See, e.g., FTC v. ABC Hispana, Inc., 26 Case No. 5:17-cv-00252-JGB (DTBx), 2017 WL 3769195, at *2 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 28, 27 2017) (imposing telemarketing ban); FTC v. John Beck Amazing Profits LLC, 888 F.
28 Supp. 2d 1006, 1014-15 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 21, 2012) (infomercial marketing and

1 telemarketing bans); FTC v. Dinamica Financiera, LLC, Case No. 9-cv-03554-MMM
2 (PJWx), 2010 WL 9488821, at *12 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 19, 2010) (mortgage loan 3 modification and foreclosure relief services bans).
