Plaintiffs, the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”), and the State of Florida, Office of the Attorney General, Department of Legal Affairs (“State of Florida”), for their Complaint allege:

1. The FTC brings this action under Sections 13(b) and 19 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (“FTC Act”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 53(b) and 57b, and the Telemarketing and Consumer Fraud and Abuse Prevention Act (“Telemarketing Act”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108, to obtain temporary, preliminary, and permanent injunctive relief, rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of monies paid, disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, and other equitable relief for Defendants’ acts or practices in violation of Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a), and in violation of the FTC’s Trade Regulation Rule entitled “Telemarketing Sales Rule” (“TSR”), 16 C.F.R. Part 310.

2. The State of Florida brings this action pursuant to the Telemarketing and Consumer Fraud and Abuse Prevention Act (“Telemarketing Act”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108 and the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act (“FDUTPA”), Chapter 501, Part II, Florida Statutes (2014), to obtain temporary and permanent injunctions, consumer restitution, civil penalties and other equitable relief, and reimbursement of costs and attorneys’ fees for Defendants’ acts or practices in violation of the TSR and FDUTPA. The State of Florida has conducted an investigation, and the head of the enforcing authority, Attorney General Pamela Jo Bondi, has determined that an enforcement action serves the public interest as required by FDUPTA Section 501.207, Florida Statutes (2014).

4. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over the State of Florida’s claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

5. Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1) and (2), (c)(1) and (2), and (d), and 15 U.S.C. § 53(b).

PLAINTIFFS

6. The FTC is an independent agency of the United States Government created by statute. 15 U.S.C. §§ 41-58. The FTC enforces Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a), which prohibits unfair or deceptive acts or practices in or affecting commerce. The FTC also enforces the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108. Pursuant to the Telemarketing Act, the FTC promulgated and enforces the TSR, 16 C.F.R. Part 310, which prohibits deceptive and abusive telemarketing acts or practices.

7. The FTC is authorized to initiate federal district court proceedings, by its own attorneys, to enjoin violations of the FTC Act and the TSR and to secure such equitable relief as may be appropriate in each case, including rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of monies paid, and the disgorgement of ill-gotten monies. 15 U.S.C. §§ 53(b), 56(a)(2)(A), 56(a)(2)(B), 57b, 6102(c) and 6105(b).

The State of Florida is authorized to pursue this action to enjoin violations of FDUTPA and to obtain legal, equitable or other appropriate relief including rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the appointment of a receiver, disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, or other relief as may be appropriate. §501.207, Fla. Stat.

COMMERCE

16. At all times material to this Complaint, Defendants have maintained a substantial course of trade in or affecting commerce, as “commerce” is defined in Section 4 of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 44.

DEFENDANTS' BUSINESS PRACTICES

17. Since at least 2012, Defendants have sold medical alert systems to consumers throughout the United States and Canada. Defendants market their medical alert systems to consumers through various means, including through unsolicited telemarketing calls.

18. Defendants have engaged numerous telemarketers to conduct unsolicited telemarketing calls marketing Defendants' medical alert systems. Among the telemarketers whom Defendants have engaged are Worldwide Info Services, Inc. and its affiliates, which were sued by the FTC and the State of Florida, relating to their marketing of Defendants' medical alert systems in the case captioned FTC, et al. v. Worldwide Info Services, Inc., et al., Case No. 6:14-CV-8-ORL 28DAB (M.D. Fla. filed Jan. 6, 2014).

19. Defendants, directly or through one or more intermediaries, initiate telephone calls to consumers throughout the United States and Canada to induce sales of Defendants' medical alert systems. In numerous instances, the telemarketing calls have been initiated using a telemarketing service that delivers prerecorded voice messages through telephone calls. This service is known as "voice broadcasting" or "robocalling."

20. Many of the consumers who receive these unsolicited calls are elderly, live alone, and have limited or fixed incomes. They often are in poor health, suffer from memory loss or dementia, and rely on family members, friends, or health professionals to manage their finances and to make financial or health related decisions for them.

21. In numerous instances, the prerecorded messages have purported to be from "John from the shipping department of Emergency Medical Alert," and have informed consumers that a medical alert system has been purchased for them. The recording has indicated that consumers will receive the system at "no cost to you whatsoever," and that the shipping costs have also already been paid. The message has instructed consumers to press a number on their telephone to schedule delivery, and it also has given consumers the option to press a different number to decline shipment of the medical alert system.

22. Defendants sometimes have used other prerecorded messages, but those messages also have indicated that the medical alert system is available to senior citizens for free. In numerous instances, Defendants' messages have stated that the American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, and/or other nonprofit organizations or health care providers are urging senior citizens to obtain medical alert systems, and that these systems are available for free. All of these messages instruct consumers to press a number for more information, or to press a different number to be removed from Defendants' calling list.

23. When consumers press the number to speak to a live operator, they have been connected to telemarketers, who tell consumers that the medical alert system has a value of over $400, but that consumers will receive the system for free. Defendants' telemarketers sometimes have told consumers that the system is free because a friend, family member, health care provider, or acquaintance referred the consumer to Defendants. In other instances, Defendants' telemarketers have told consumers that the system is free because a friend, family member, health care provider, or acquaintance purchased the medical alert system for the consumer. When asked, Defendants' telemarketers have cited confidentiality concerns in refusing to provide the name of the person who referred the consumer to Defendants, or who purchased the medical alert system for the consumer.

24. Defendants' telemarketers explain that the medical alert system consists of a necklace or bracelet that enables consumers to receive help during emergencies. Defendants' telemarketers have touted that their medical alert system has been recommended by the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association, the National Institute on Aging, the AARP, the American Red Cross, other reputable organizations, and/or health care providers.

25. In fact, the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association, the National Institute on Aging, the AARP, the American Red Cross, other reputable national nonprofit organizations, and other health care providers do not endorse Defendants' medical alert system.

26. Although the medical alert system was originally represented as being free, at the end of the call Defendants' telemarketers inform consumers for the first time that there is a monthly monitoring fee of between $29.95 and $39.95. To cover this monthly fee, consumers are required to provide their credit card or bank account information, but they have been assured that the billing cycle does not start until consumers receive and activate the system. Defendants' telemarketers frequently tell consumers that if the consumers sign up for Defendants' medical alert system, the consumers will be given opportunities to receive discounts on other products the consumers typically purchase, which will offset the monthly monitoring fees. For example, Defendants' telemarketers frequently tell consumers they will receive $1000 or $3000 in grocery coupons that the consumers can use for their everyday purchases at their regular grocery stores, a $50 restaurant discount card monthly, and/or a 75% prescription discount card, if the consumers sign up for Defendants' medical alert system.

27. If consumers tell Defendants' telemarketers that they need time to think about whether to get the system, or that they want to speak with their family before agreeing to provide their payment information, Defendants' telemarketers have responded that consumers will only receive the system if they sign up that day. Defendants' telemarketers also frequently tell consumers that if they decide to cancel the service, consumers will have no further obligation and Defendants will pay for return shipping of the medical alert system.

28. In numerous instances, after providing Defendants with their credit card or bank account information, consumers have discovered that nobody they know referred them to Defendants or purchased a medical alert system for them. In addition, consumers usually have been charged the first monitoring fee within a day of receiving the telephone call, before they have received and activated the system.

29. Many consumers subsequently have tried to cancel their accounts, either because they realize that Defendants' telemarketers lied to them or for other reasons. Consumers often have had difficulty canceling, however. Some consumers have had trouble reaching customer service representatives, while others have reached representatives who either claim not to have the authority to issue cancellations or try to keep the consumers from cancelling by aggressively re-pitching the product or offering special deals. Consumers are told that in order to cancel, they must return the medical alert system and pay for return shipping, or pay $400 if they do not return the medical alert system. Consumers also are told that they will continue to be billed the monthly service fee until Defendants receive the medical alert system.

30. While telemarketing their medical alert systems, Defendants, acting directly or through one or more intermediaries, have made numerous calls to telephone numbers on the National Do Not Call Registry ("Registry"), as well as to consumers who have previously asked Defendants not to call them again. In some instances, Defendants or their telemarketers also have "spoofed" their calls by transmitting phony Caller Identification information so that call recipients do not know the true source of the calls.

31. In numerous instances, Defendants, acting directly or through one or more intermediaries, have initiated telemarketing calls that failed to disclose truthfully, promptly, and in a clear and conspicuous manner to the person receiving the call: the identity of the seller; that the purpose of the call is to sell goods or services; or the nature of the goods or services. In numerous instances, Defendants, acting directly or through one or more intermediaries, have initiated prerecorded telemarketing calls to consumers that failed to promptly make such disclosures, or to immediately thereafter disclose the mechanism for asserting a Do Not Call request.

32. In numerous instances, Defendants, acting directly or through one or more intermediaries, have made outbound prerecorded calls that delivered messages to induce the sale of goods or services when the persons to whom these telephone calls were made had not expressly agreed, in writing, to authorize the seller to place prerecorded calls to such persons.

VIOLATIONS OF THE FTC ACT

33. Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a), prohibits “unfair or deceptive acts or practices in or affecting commerce.”

34. Misrepresentations or deceptive omissions of material fact constitute deceptive acts or practices prohibited by Section 5(a) of the FTC Act. 15 U.S.C. § 45(a).

COUNT ONE Misrepresentation of Material Facts (By Plaintiff FTC)

35. In numerous instances, in connection with the advertising, marketing, promotion, offering for sale, or sale of medical alert systems, Defendants have represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that:

A. A friend, family member, health care provider, or other acquaintance of the consumer referred the consumer to Defendants, or purchased the medical alert system for the consumer;

B. Defendants' medical alert system is endorsed by reputable organizations, including, but not limited to, the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association, the National Institute on Aging, the AARP, the American Red Cross, and/or health care providers;

C. Consumers will not be charged the first monitoring fee until they have received and activated the medical alert system; and

D. Consumers may cancel the monitoring service at any time without any further financial obligation.

36. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances in which Defendants have made the representations set forth in Paragraph 35 of this Complaint:

A. A friend, family member, health care provider, or other acquaintance of the consumer did not refer the consumer to Defendants, or purchase the medical alert system for the consumer;

B. Defendants' medical alert system was not endorsed by reputable organizations, including, but not limited to, the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association, the National Institute on Aging, the AARP, the American Red Cross, and/or health care providers;

C. Consumers were charged the first monitoring fee before they had received and activated the medical alert system; and

D. Consumers could not cancel the monitoring service at any time without further financial obligation.

37. Therefore, Defendants' representations as set forth in Paragraph 35 of this Complaint are false and misleading and constitute deceptive acts or practices in violation of Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a).

THE TELEMARKETING SALES RULE

38. Congress directed the FTC to prescribe rules prohibiting abusive and deceptive telemarketing acts or practices pursuant to the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108. The FTC adopted the original Telemarketing Sales Rule in 1995, extensively amended it in 2003, and amended certain provisions thereafter. 16 C.F.R. Part 310.

39. Defendants are "seller[s]" and/or "telemarketer[s]" engaged in "telemarketing," and Defendants have initiated, or have caused telemarketers to initiate, "outbound telephone call[s]" to consumers to induce the purchase of goods or services, as those terms are defined in the TSR, 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(v), (aa), (cc), and (dd).

40. Under the TSR, an "outbound telephone call" means a telephone call initiated by a telemarketer to induce the purchase of goods or services or to solicit a charitable contribution. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(v).

41. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from misrepresenting, directly or by implication, in the sale of goods or services, any material aspect of the nature or terms of the seller's refund, cancellation, exchange, or repurchase policies. 16 C.F.R. § 310.3(a)(2)(iv).

42. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from misrepresenting, directly or by implication, in the sale of goods or services, a seller's or telemarketer's affiliation with, or endorsement or sponsorship by, any person or government entity. 16 C.F.R. § 310.3(a)(2)(vii).

43. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from making a false or misleading statement to induce any person to pay for goods or services. 16 C.F.R. § 310.3(a)(4).

44. The TSR, as amended in 2003, established a “do-not-call” registry (the “National Do Not Call Registry” or “Registry”), maintained by the FTC, of consumers who do not wish to receive certain types of telemarketing calls. Consumers can register their telephone numbers on the Registry without charge either through a toll-free telephone call or over the Internet at www.donotcall.gov.

45. Consumers who receive telemarketing calls to their registered numbers can complain of Registry violations the same way they registered, through a toll-free telephone call or over the Internet at www.donotcall.gov, or by otherwise contacting law enforcement authorities.

46. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from initiating an outbound telephone call to telephone numbers on the Registry. 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(b)(1)(iii)(B).

47. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from initiating an outbound telephone call to any person when that person previously has stated that he or she does not wish to receive an outbound telephone call made by or on behalf of the seller whose goods or services are being offered. 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(b)(1)(iii)(A).

48. The TSR requires that sellers and telemarketers transmit or cause to be transmitted the telephone number and, when made available by the telemarketer’s carrier, the name of the telemarketer, to any caller identification service in use by a recipient of a telemarketing call, or transmit the customer service number of the seller on whose behalf the call is made and, when made available by the telemarketer’s seller, the name of the seller. 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(a)(8).

49. The TSR requires telemarketers in an outbound telephone call to disclose truthfully, promptly, and in a clear and conspicuous manner, the following information:

- A. The identity of the seller;
- B. That the purpose of the call is to sell goods or services; and
- C. The nature of the goods or services.

16 C.F.R. § 310.4(d).

50. As amended, effective December 1, 2008, the TSR prohibits a telemarketer from engaging, and a seller from causing a telemarketer to engage, in initiating an outbound telephone call that delivers a prerecorded message to induce the purchase of any good or service unless the message promptly discloses:

- A. The identity of the seller;
- B. That the purpose of the call is to sell goods or services; and
- C. The nature of the goods or services.

16 C.F.R. § 310.4(b)(1)(v)(B)(ii).

51. As amended, effective September 1, 2009, the TSR prohibits initiating a telephone call that delivers a prerecorded message to induce the purchase of any good or service unless the seller has obtained from the recipient of the call an express agreement, in writing, that evidences the willingness of the recipient of the call to receive calls that deliver prerecorded messages by or on behalf of a specific seller. The express agreement must include the recipient's telephone number and signature, must be obtained after a clear and conspicuous disclosure that the purpose of the agreement is to authorize the seller to place prerecorded calls to such person, and must be obtained without requiring, directly or indirectly, that the agreement be executed as a condition of purchasing any good or service. 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(b)(1)(v)(A).

52. It is a violation of the TSR for any person to provide substantial assistance or support to any seller or telemarketer when that person knows or consciously avoids knowing that the seller or telemarketer is engaged in any practice that violates Sections 310.3(a), (c) or (d), or 310.4 of the TSR. 16 C.F.R. § 310.3(b).

53. Pursuant to Section 3(c) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6102(c), and Section 18(d)(3) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 57a(d)(3), a violation of the TSR constitutes an unfair or deceptive act or practice in or affecting commerce, in violation of Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a).

62. Defendants' acts and practices, as described in Paragraph 61 above, are abusive telemarketing acts or practices that violate the TSR, 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(b)(1)(v)(A).

disclose truthfully, promptly, and in a clear and conspicuous manner to the person receiving the call:

- A. The identity of the seller;
- B. That the purpose of the call is to sell goods or services; and
- C. The nature of the goods or services.

64. Defendants' acts and practices, as described in Paragraph 63 above, are abusive telemarketing acts or practices that violate the TSR, 16 C.F.R. §§ 310.4(b)(1)(v)(B)(ii) and (d).

UNFAIR TRADE PRACTICES ACT

67. Section 501.204 of the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, Chapter 501, Part II, Florida Statutes, prohibits "unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce."

COUNT TEN

Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act Violation by all Defendants
(By Plaintiff State of Florida)

68. In numerous instances, in connection with the advertising, marketing, promotion, offering for sale, or sale of medical alert systems, Defendants have represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that:

A. A friend, family member, health care provider, or other acquaintance of the consumer referred the consumer to Defendants, or purchased the medical alert system for the consumer;

B. Defendants' medical alert system is endorsed by reputable organizations, including, but not limited to, the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association, the National Institute on Aging, the AARP, the American Red Cross, and/or health care providers;

C. Consumers will not be charged the first monitoring fee until they have received and activated the medical alert system; and

D. Consumers may cancel the monitoring service at any time without any further financial obligation.

69. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances in which Defendants have made the representations set forth in Paragraph 68 of this Complaint:

A. A friend, family member, health care provider, or other acquaintance of the consumer did not refer the consumer to Defendants, or purchase the medical alert system for the consumer;

THIS COURT'S POWER TO GRANT RELIEF

72. Section 13(b) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 53(b), empowers this Court to grant injunctive and such other relief as the Court may deem appropriate to halt and redress violations of any provision of law enforced by the FTC. The Court, in the exercise of its equitable jurisdiction, may award ancillary relief, including rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of monies paid, and the disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, to prevent and remedy any violation of any provision of law enforced by the FTC.

73. Section 19 of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 57b, and Section 6(b) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6105(b), authorize this Court to grant such relief as the Court finds necessary to redress injury to consumers resulting from Defendants' violations of the TSR, including the rescission or reformation of contracts, and the refund of money.

74. Section 4(a) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6103(a), empowers this Court to grant the State of Florida injunctive and such other relief as the Court may deem appropriate to halt violations of the TSR and to redress injury to consumers, including the award of damages, restitution, or other compensation.

75. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367, this Court has supplemental jurisdiction to allow Plaintiff State of Florida to enforce its state law claims against Defendants in this Court for violations of the FDUPTA, and to grant such relief as provided under state law, including injunctive relief, restitution, civil penalties, costs and attorneys' fees, and such other relief to which the State of Florida may be entitled.

D. Award civil penalties in an amount up to $10,000 per transaction pursuant to Florida Statutes Section 501.2075 and up to $15,000 per transaction pursuant to Florida Statutes Section 501.2077 for the willful acts and practices of Defendants in violation of FDUTPA; and
